Terms of Service

AEGC Corporate Website

Platform: https://all-encompassingglobalconsult.com/
Document owner: All-Encompassing Global Consult Limited (AEGC)
Effective date: Date of publication on the Platform
Version: 1.0 | Prepared: 18 November 2026
IMPORTANT This policy applies only to the Platform named above.

1. Scope of the corporate website

This website presents AEGC's consulting, business-to-business, public-private partnership and talent development activities, corporate information, publications, downloadable materials, newsletters, contact channels and appointment links.

Website descriptions, statements of capability, indicative project examples and general publications are informational. They do not create a professional advisory engagement, fiduciary relationship, public-sector appointment, partnership or contract by themselves. A separate written engagement letter or agreement controls any consulting assignment.

2. Enquiries, strategic calls and submissions

If you submit an enquiry, proposal, expression of interest, partnership request or other information, you confirm that you have a right to share it and that it is accurate to the best of your knowledge. Do not submit confidential, classified or highly sensitive information through a public contact form without an agreed secure channel.

Scheduling a call or sending a proposal does not oblige AEGC to accept a mandate, provide advice or enter a transaction. We may request due diligence, know-your-counterparty information or project details before proceeding.

3. Newsletter and communications

Subscription to the newsletter is voluntary. You can unsubscribe using instructions in messages or by contacting us. Service-related responses to an enquiry may still be sent where necessary; marketing communications require an appropriate lawful basis.

Do not use our newsletter or contact functions to send spam, malicious material or unlawful solicitations.

4. Reliance, downloads and external opportunities

Company profiles, decks, publications, articles, third-party opportunities and event announcements are provided for general understanding and may change. They are not legal, tax, investment or regulatory advice tailored to your circumstances.

You are responsible for checking authenticity, application conditions, closing dates and current rules of any third-party opportunity. AEGC does not promise a successful application, partnership, appointment, investment or regulatory approval.

5. Definitions and agreement

"AEGC", "we", "us" and "our" refer to All-Encompassing Global Consult Limited. "Platform" means the website identified above and the features made available through it. "User", "you" and "your" mean any visitor, account holder or organisation accessing the Platform. "Content" includes text, graphics, files, learning materials, data and other materials displayed or supplied through the Platform.

By accessing or using the Platform, you agree to these Terms and any specific terms presented for a service, programme or purchase. If you act for an organisation, you represent that you are authorised to bind that organisation. If you do not agree, do not use the relevant service. Mandatory rights under applicable law are not waived.

6. Eligibility and permitted use

You must have legal capacity to enter into these Terms, or use the Platform with appropriate parental or guardian authorisation where permitted. You must provide accurate information, comply with applicable laws and use the Platform only for legitimate purposes.

You must not misrepresent your identity or authority; unlawfully obtain personal data; impersonate government agencies or other users; interfere with security or availability; introduce malware; reverse-engineer or scrape protected components in breach of applicable law; misuse other users' content; or use the Platform for fraud, harassment, discrimination or unlawful marketing.

7. Platform availability and modifications

We may maintain, improve, suspend or discontinue features where reasonably necessary for security, legal compliance, technical reasons or business operations. We aim to give reasonable notice of material adverse changes where practicable, but urgent measures may be taken without notice.

Information on the Platform may be updated and may be incomplete or superseded. You should verify time-sensitive facts with the relevant primary source before acting.

8. Intellectual property and licence

Except for material owned by users or third parties, the Platform, its design, trademarks, software, training and editorial materials are owned or licensed by AEGC and protected by applicable intellectual property laws. We grant a limited, revocable, non-exclusive, non-transferable permission to access and use the Platform for its intended purposes.

No licence is granted to reproduce, sell, redistribute, commercially exploit or use our names or logos without written permission, except to the extent permitted by law. Third-party marks remain the property of their respective owners.

9. Third-party links and services

The Platform may link to regulators, government systems, education providers, financial institutions, event organisers, payment providers and other services. Such services have their own terms, eligibility rules and privacy notices. A link does not, by itself, imply endorsement, agency or a guarantee of third-party performance.

10. Suspension, termination and records

We may restrict or suspend access where there is a reasonable belief of security compromise, a material breach, fraud, unlawful activity or a legal requirement. Where appropriate, we will allow an opportunity to respond and to retrieve relevant information, subject to lawful restrictions.

Termination does not automatically erase records that we must preserve for legal, contractual, fraud-prevention, accounting or dispute-resolution purposes.

11. Disclaimers and liability

The Platform is provided with reasonable care and skill, subject to the nature of each service. We do not guarantee uninterrupted access, error-free information or outcomes controlled by other parties. To the extent permitted by law, AEGC is not liable for indirect or consequential losses that were not reasonably foreseeable; nothing excludes liability for fraud, wilful misconduct, or any liability or consumer right that applicable law does not permit us to exclude.

Any enforceable financial liability limitation must be assessed in light of the service, circumstances and applicable law; nothing in these Terms limits non-excludable statutory remedies.

12. Governing law and dispute resolution

These Terms are governed by the laws of the Federal Republic of Nigeria, subject to any mandatory protections applicable to users in other jurisdictions. Please first contact AEGC using the details below to seek an amicable resolution. If unresolved, either party may pursue remedies before a competent court or regulator.

13. Changes and contact

We may amend these Terms for legal, security or operational reasons. A revised version will display its effective date and, where legally required or where changes materially affect users, we will provide additional notice or seek fresh acceptance.

Document interpretation

Where a course, transaction, external programme or regulated service has additional mandatory conditions, those conditions are read alongside these Terms. If there is a conflict, applicable law prevails.
